This is a great tower defense game. It has a good depth to it, and the towers have extensive upgrades and choices. The xmaps are well thought out and provide enough depth and versatility to keep the game interesting.

As to the technical side: game plays really well and not taxing on the system. I have run into any bugs or issues playing it on a Dell PC. The game can be played in full screen or windowed and it has a variety of resolution options, including 1920x1080. The characters animate well and the game is detailed and colorful.

If you're a fan of tower defense games, you'll really enjoy this one. If you haven't played the genre before, you can go wrong by starting with this game.. One nice casual indie puzzle game with relaxing visuals and music that you can actually play for a while and won't get you bored.. FYI if you are reading this, this DLC is NOT like Baba Yaga and is NOT integrated into the main campaign world. I figured that out after beating the game. It is an expedition mode item meant to be played seperately from the main game.

My opinion on the DLC is that it's okay.

At first I thought wow this is sort of neat. Sneaking around on a map and killing zombies. I figured it would be a chance to be truly stealthy around an AI who was 'blind' and that I would avoid most fights or at least be tactical about it.

Well these 'zombies' have random 'swarms' where they all suddenly know where you are. You cannot hide from them as they toss grenades at you (grenades really?). If you are up in a tree the grenades fall back down and the swarm then kills itself.

There's three puzzles which are really simple but explained in a really confusing manner. They consist mainly of 'Look for three red lights in the room, if there are less than three red lights pull blue lever, if more than three lights pull green lever.'" No I'm not kidding.

And the end of course there is a never ending spawning amount of zombies that run towards you as you just hold the sprint button down and shoot red pipes as you pass under them. I completed this DLC in about 40 minutes.

In my opinion it is a missed oppurtunity. Overall it will make for a good couple runs with cards but I would get it on sale.. Hey there, I startet playing The Piano today and really like the setting and the atmosphere. Its not an everyday mindless action game and you really get soaked into the atmo. Really like that.

The camera speed needs a little tuning but other then that i couldnt find any bugs. Maybe I got a version where some of them are already fixed.

Absolutely a recommendation!. Short:

Unplayable game.

Great concept.

Runs once, then the next time you go into the game you're stuck in the cage you were last starting in. At only Level 4:

300FPS - Claims - yet my ape in the cage won't move at all.

Asking for a refund.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=UVa4D807XhY>

Long:"

WARNING: D

Game is broken. I load into level 4 false alarm, my ape doesn't move. claims to be 300fps;

It's crashed, but still playing sounds. Feet on the floor.

Restarting level doesn't help

Menu is fully interfaceable.

WARNING:

It's such a good game, but refused to work on Windows 10 - GTX1070 16GB RAM _ Worked once. Played 20 minutes. Then it loaded into the game. Not a continue option. Just play: and the Ape in the cage does his first Frames - and then , it no longer runs DEFINITELY:"Looked for fixes.

Looked in the install directory for VCREDIST, etc. in case i was missing something.

I had to refund. It was sad at the same time because it was epic.

Tried restarting. Tried closing steam,

force closing game,

closing normally.

Menu still worked.

But Ape in the cage would not move at all.

Searched Community forum for the fix on this issue,, and none. But other people are having the same issue on windows 10

Windows 10- legitimate- Up to date to the max. ->

Avoid this.

Great game ruined by it's company.. I feel sorry for saying that, but this is not $15 or even $10 dollar game. Otherwise it is interesting for couple hours, then becomes all the same. May be it is just me, but I like puzzle games without time limit as well.. This game is like a lighter version of 'Legend of Grimrock', if you are interested in this game and have not played LoG yet, I recommend to play that first.

If you just want more like LoG, then this is for you.

The game is fine actually, the artwork is good, the music nice, the combat and story...eeeh, could be a whole lot worse.. Click click click. You'll wonder why you keep playing while you keep playing.. 10/10 Most responsive and easy to use horns.. It is the undoubtedly best Chinese RPG game to date and I have to admit compared to this game other Chinese RPGs including The Legend of Sword and Fairy are♥♥♥♥♥♥♥♥♥♥ Although it still has a long way to catch up with 3A games on the international stage but this is great starting point. I genuinely wish this company can move forward and bring an amazing games with Chinese RPG elements to overseas gamers in near future.. Overall the game is fun to play for a few hours until the lack of map zoom and some of the irritating bugs collide together to create this very hectic and fast paced game that you end up screaming at the screen in frustration. All of the random callouts happening at once along with units having to be told to continue on thier patrol after they are done with a crime becomes more bothersome than fun. If you do enjoy this gerne of game I do recommend this title although I would wait for a Steam sale or heading over to greenmangaming and getting 25% off.

The title has everything you want in a police focused rts game, and with the implementation of some future patches to fix the issues I've mentioned, the game can be great fun for few hours of play. If a sandbox mode is added to the title, you would have countless hours of gameplay. For now we will see what the Developers add or fix to improve this already enjoyable game.

https://youtu.be/UV7L\_IZgsS4. I'm giving this game a thumbs up but also understand that many people might give this game a thumbs down and feel it is a waste of time and money.

For that reason, please watch my video of the gameplay here (or other such youtube videos) before making the purchase!

The biggest knock on this game in my opinion is that the combat feels way too slow and that makes the game feel sluggish and unexciting. Your character looks like crap when he runs \(like he has a corncob in his butt\). Other smaller knocks would be the inability to smash wooden crates and barrels in the dungeons, no inventory, no gold to acquire, and no skills that you can level up or adjust to your liking. All of these would go a long ways to improving the gameplay experience, but to be fair these are also things that would likely increase the price.

The game is not horrible, but not much above average.. I would recommend waiting for a nice sale price for most people. About 2.5 to 3 hours of gameplay is probably the time needed to defeat the game, and worse yet.. the game is not going to have any replayability at all as it would be exactly the same every time.

My 'very lenient' score is a 6.5 out of 10 but my recommendation is waiting for a sale on this, even for RPG fans like myself.
